

It all begins on Friday. If you are free, why not arrive in time for a cup of tea. If not, come along in time for a welcome pre-dinner drink. We'll close with a blessing after lunch on Sunday.

Our speaker for the weekend is the Rev Canon David MacInnes. Until his retirement, David was the Rector of a church in Oxford for 15 years. Prior to that, he was a canon at Birmingham Cathedral.

Clare MacInnes, David's wonderful wife, is coming with him. For 15 years, she was responsible for the running of a church in Oxford. In her spare time she had a business developing church buildings!

Katherine Lyddon, Exeter Diocesan Children's Work Advisor, is coming to do all sorts of amazing things with the children during the weekend.

Dave Cleave is coming to lead worship for us. He is a man capable of leading worship across the whole breadth of tastes and preferences.

Or any churchwarden!

The weekend is planned to suit all ages and all tastes.

There will be lots of space to relax, catch up with old friends and make new ones, enjoy the beautiful surroundings and experience some spiritual refreshment too.

Every part of the weekend will hopefully reflect the breadth of our church community. There will be something for everyone from babies to great grandparents.

As well as main sessions with input from our guest speaker, there will be brief optional morning and evening worship times ranging from BCP Communion to contemporary prayer.

In parallel to the adult programme, we have a special children's programme including craft, games, singing and teaching. So that the children can get as much out of the weekend as the adults.

On Saturday afternoon, there will be a range of activities including swimming or walks for the energetic and newspapers for those less so! There will be knit & natter and a live screening of England v. Samoa Rugby at 2.30pm! Later on, we're hoping to offer some workshops ranging from art to understanding the Bible to a women only seminar.
